Structural Preservation Systems Donates $50,000 to Habitat for Humanity of Broward Empowering Families and Building Futures Through the Gift of Homeownership

FORT LAUDERDALE (January 15, 2025) – Habitat for Humanity of Broward has received a generous $50,000 gift from Structural Preservation Systems, a meaningful contribution that will help transform the lives of hardworking families in Broward County. The donation was presented during Structural Group's Town Hall meeting in December at the Fort Lauderdale Marriott located at 6650 N Andrews Avenue.

This contribution goes beyond financial support, it represents a shared vision of creating safe, stable, and sustainable workforce housing. By partnering with Habitat Broward, Structural Group is investing in the dreams of local families who are working hard to secure a better future for themselves and their children.

Colin Meneely, Senior Branch Director at Structural Preservation Systems, shared, “at STRUCTURAL, our mission is centered on restoring and strengthening buildings, bridges, and all types of infrastructure. It’s only natural that we extend that focus to strengthening our community as well. Partnering with Habitat for Humanity Broward provided the perfect opportunity to give back. Allowing us to channel our contributions of funds and labor to help a hardworking family achieve the dream of homeownership.”

“We are incredibly grateful to Structural Preservation Systems for the generous contribution to our Habitat Mission to help us build stronger foundations, both literally and figuratively, for those in need,” said Nancy Robin, CEO and Executive Director of Habitat Broward. “Together, we’re creating safe and sustainable spaces for communities to thrive.”

Today, South Florida ranks as the most cost-burdened housing market in the country, where soaring home prices and stagnant wages place homeownership beyond the reach of 96 percent of Broward residents.

Habitat Broward’s program combines home construction with affordable mortgage financing and robust education to put working families on the path to long-term financial security through homeownership.
