

SOUTH FLORIDA BUSINESS JOURNAL

COVER STORY

Seoul searching in Miami

Investors, chefs, and diners bet on Korean food's future in the Magic City

BY CORTNEY DANIELLE MORRE
AND JOANNE DRILLING | PAGES 16-19

HEART HEALTH

Access to care, education aid prevention

With cardiovascular disease and deaths on the rise, doctors aim to help patients stem tide.

PAGES 21-26

DEVELOPMENT

Juno Beach considers pause

Town would create a master plan that limits impacts on infrastructure.

ERIK BOJNANSKY, 6

CRYPTOCURRENCY

Hedge fund warns of collapse

An Elliott Investment Management memo cited Trump's executive order.

EMAN ELSHAHAWY, 8

THE LIST

South Florida's largest temporary personnel and staffing agencies

PAGE 28

SOUTH FLORIDA BUSINESS JOURNAL

February 14-20, 2025

Vol. 45, No. 32 • $4.50

JOCK FISTICK | SFBJ

ADVERTISEMENT:

Florida Atlantic is a Top-Tier Research
University. It's a Big Deal.

FAU.EDU/R1

CEO Build

Habitat for Humanity of Broward held its sixth annual CEO Build on Feb. 1. More than 50 executives, working alongside future homeowners, supported the organization’s efforts to build BBI Village at 1924 N.W. 10th Ave. in Fort Lauderdale. Habitat for Humanity anticipates the project, which will house 20 families, will be completed this fall.

1. Recently retired JM Family Enterprises CEO Brent Burns, Habitat for Humanity CEO Nancy Robin, City Furniture Chairman Keith Koenig and Burdette Beckman Inc. CEO Robert Taylor Jr. 2. Health Business Solutions CEO Ray Berry, future homeowner Carli Falzone and Stiles President Scott MacLaren. 3. Encompass Onsite CEO Marcell Haywood, Regions Bank’s Kelley Brown-Murro, SFBJ President and Publisher Melanie Dickinson, Joe DiMaggio Children’s Hospital CEO Caitlin Stella, and GL Homes CEO Misha Ezratti and CFO Maria Menendez.

PHOTOGRAPHY BY TAYLOR A. SMITH

Wine in the Wild

The Busch Wildlife Sanctuary in Jupiter hosted its sixth annual Wine in the Wild fundraiser on Jan. 25. Over 350 donors attended the event, which featured live and silent auctions, and meet-and-greets with the organization’s animal ambassadors. It raised nearly $300,000 toward its mission of providing lifesaving care to thousands of wild animals annually, and environmental education to residents.

1. Marvin and Marianne Guerra, Busch Wildlife Sanctuary CEO Amy Kight, and Sylvana and Murray Klein. 2. Sarah Beattie and Astrid, the red-tailed hawk. 3. Max and Joseph McNamara.

BRIAN MARKETING GROUP

