

SOUTH FLORIDA BUSINESS JOURNAL

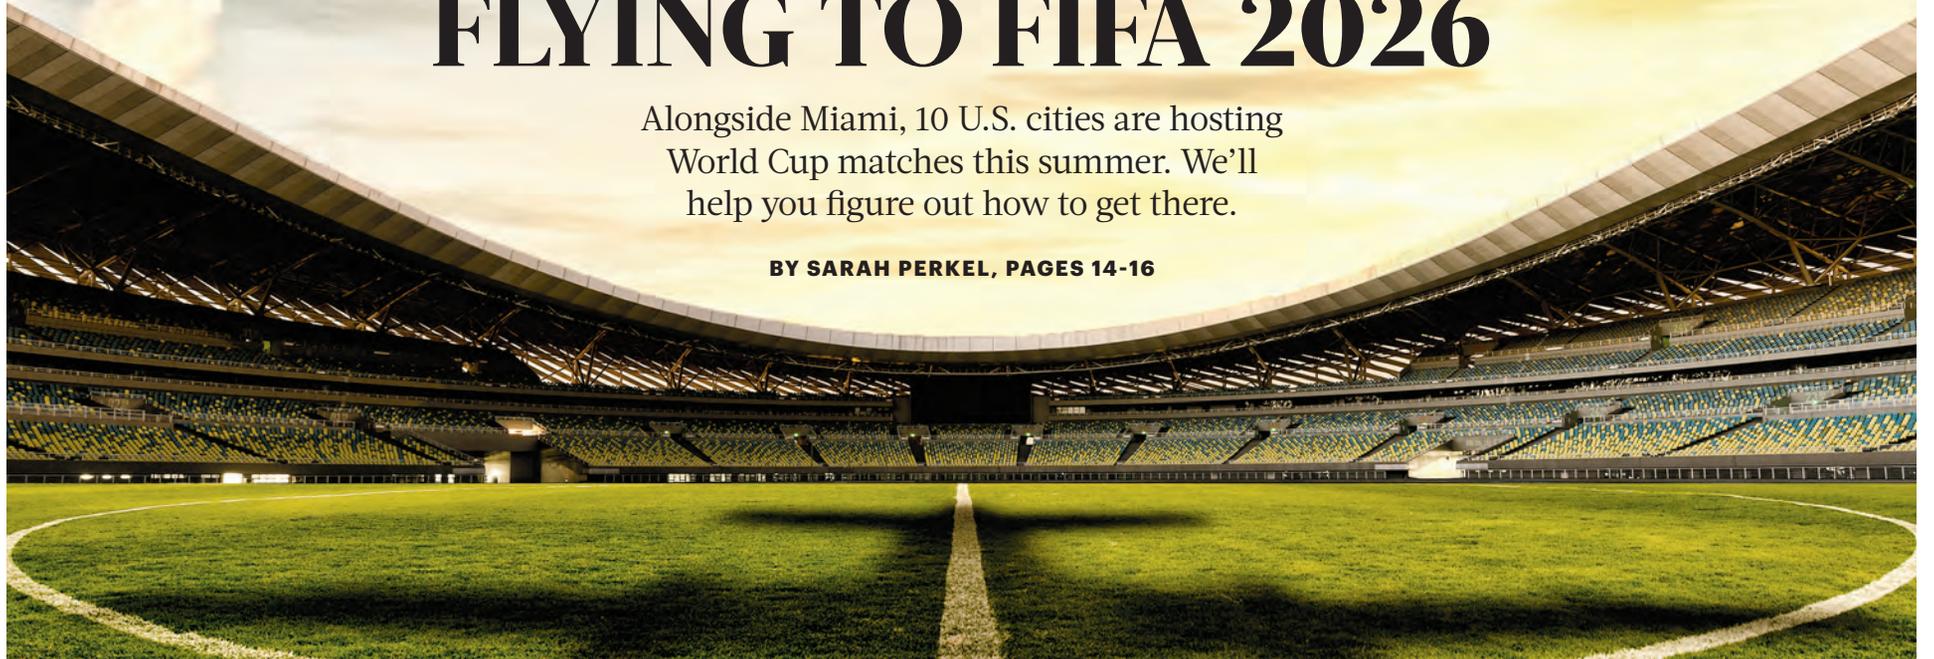

T H E L I S T

FLYING TO FIFA 2026

Alongside Miami, 10 U.S. cities are hosting World Cup matches this summer. We'll help you figure out how to get there.

BY SARAH PERKEL, PAGES 14-16

ACBJ PHOTO ILLUSTRATION

SOUTH FLORIDA
BUSINESS JOURNAL
March 6-12, 2026
Vol. 46, No. 35

POWER LEADERS
IN PHILANTHROPY

Meet leaders of South Florida nonprofits and the businesses that support them.

PAGES 17-46

SOUTH FLORIDA
BUSINESS JOURNAL

POWER LEADERS
IN PHILANTHROPY

ILLUSTRATION BY BRANDEN BARKER | SFBJ

SPONSORED BY

NANCY ROBIN

CEO, Habitat for Humanity of Broward
Fort Lauderdale

NEW

Since joining Habitat for Humanity of Broward in 2016, Robin has more than tripled its housing production. Habitat Broward just finished A Rick Case Habitat Community of 76 homes, with five communities under development and coming soon.

Birthplace: Washington, D.C.

Education: B.B.A., marketing, Florida Atlantic University

Lesson from my mentor regarding philanthropy: You are remembered for what you gave, not what you had.

Biggest challenge facing philanthropy: Like any business, talent. Leadership is always the differentiator.

My organization's most unexpected gift: A $7 million gift that turned out to be from MacKenzie Scott.

Message to tomorrow's nonprofit leaders: Collaboration for holistic solutions.

My latest cultural discovery: Billy Strings for the first time in Jacksonville.

Contact: www.habitatbroward.org, nancy@habitatbroward.org, 954-396-3030

ALEX RODRIGUEZ-ROIG

President, Boys & Girls Clubs of Miami-Dade
Miami

NEW

Rodriguez-Roig, who came to the U.S. from Cuba at the age of 5, leads Boys & Girls Clubs of Miami-Dade. The organization is committed to improving the lives of all youth through mentorship, care and educational programs.

Birthplace: Havana

Education: B.S., biology, Florida International University

Why I'm involved in philanthropy: It gives me the ability to help so many other youth and families.

Lesson from my mentor regarding philanthropy: Tune out the noise and stay focused on the goals.

My hero in philanthropy: Harve Mogul, who turned United Way into one of the country's most successful entities

My latest cultural discovery: Cauley Square – brings you back to old Florida.

If I retire Friday, Monday I will: Relax ... at least for a bit.

Contact: www.bgcmia.org

GARY C. ROSEN

CEO/managing shareholder, Becker & Poliakoff
Fort Lauderdale

NEW

Rosen oversees governance, recruitment and business strategy at the firm, as well as its philanthropic efforts. Becker Gives Back invests in communities and organizations through charitable giving, volunteer work, pro bono service and nonprofit leadership efforts.

Birthplace: Worcester, Massachusetts

Education: B.A., Brandeis University; J.D., Catholic University

Why I'm involved in philanthropy: It advances progress, opportunity and long-term community strength.

Lesson from my mentor regarding philanthropy: You can do well by doing good.

Biggest challenge facing philanthropy: Ensuring it delivers long-term results, not short-term solutions.

My hero in philanthropy: MacKenzie Scott

My latest cultural discovery: Norton Museum of Art

Place I recommend everyone visit: The Grand Canyon

Contact: www.beckerlawyers.com, 954-987-7550

MAX B. ROTHMAN

President and CEO, Alliance for Aging
Miami

NEW

Rothman joined the organization in his current role in 2007. Today, it administers $67 million through community agencies that provide in-home and community-based services to older adults in Miami-Dade and Monroe counties.

Birthplace: Bridgeton, New Jersey

Education: B.A., Lafayette College; J.D. University of Michigan; LLM, George Washington University

Why I'm involved in philanthropy: Service to the community and the aging population.

Message to tomorrow's nonprofit leaders: Manage by walking around.

My latest cultural discovery: "Cuba: An American History" by Ada Ferrer

Place I recommend everyone visit: Maine

Splurge I've made that few would understand: Carnival in Rio and a night on the Amazon.

If I retire Friday, Monday I will: Curl up with a great book.

Contact: www.allianceforaging.org, 305-670-6500

JULIET ROULHAC

Senior director, external affairs and corporate philanthropy, Florida Power & Light Co. and NextEra Energy
Plantation

Roulhac oversees and directs giving strategies for NextEra Energy as manager of its national foundation. The foundation gave nearly $10 million in cash contributions to South Florida organizations in 2025.

Birthplace: Kingston, Jamaica

Education: B.A., criminal justice, J.D., University of Florida

My greatest accomplishment in philanthropy: Leading NextEra Energy's corporate giving to nearly double its strategic, impact-driven grantmaking.

I entered philanthropy: To turn advocacy into action.

Lesson from my mentor regarding philanthropy: It is not charity; it's an investment in our shared future.

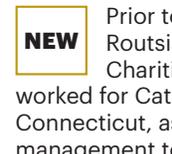

My hero in philanthropy: MacKenzie Scott. Her boldness and authenticity challenges everything we thought we knew about transformational giving.

My latest cultural discovery: Bombay Darbar restaurant

Contact: www.nee.com, j.roulhac@fpl.com, 954-321-2179

PETER ROUTSIS-ARROYO

CEO, Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Miami
Miami

NEW

Prior to being named to his post in 2018, Routsis-Arroyo served as CEO of Catholic Charities in the Diocese of Venice. He previously worked for Catholic Family Services in Hartford, Connecticut, as clinical director, member of the senior management team and director of the Institute for the Hispanic Family.

Birthplace: Queens, New York

Education: Master's degree, social work, New York University

Contact: www.ccadm.org